As Temperatures Drop, Water Main Breaks Increase

The COVID-19 pandemic has changed many aspects of our lives, but one constant for residents of the DMV remains: winter is water main break season. As colder temperatures settle into the region, WSSC Water crews are prepared for the increase in breaks and leaks with people, pipes, trucks and tools at the ready. Every year, WSSC Water responds to approximately 1,800 water main breaks; 1,200 of them between the months of November and February. Crews have repaired nearly 200 breaks and leaks in November and are seeing a steady increase over the past few days due to the dropping temperatures.

WSSC Water experiences an increase in water main breaks and leaks as the temperature of the Potomac River falls. The river is the primary source of drinking water for 1.8 million WSSC Water customers in Montgomery and Prince George's counties. The colder water can shock pipes, increasing the number of breaks and leaks.

Customers are encouraged to report water main breaks and leaks as quickly as possible. There are three simple ways to report a break or leak to WSSC Water's 24-hour Emergency Services Center:

- By phone: 301-206-4002
- By email: emergencycallcenter@wsscwater.com
- Via WSSC Water's Mobile App

The "Report a Problem" feature on the mobile app allows customers to easily snap a picture of a possible water main break or leak and send it directly to the Emergency Services Center. The app uses GPS to pinpoint the location of the image, which allows dispatchers to send an inspector to the site.

WSSC Water maintains the pipes in the streets and the connections up to the property line. If a pipe in a home freezes, it is the homeowner's responsibility to repair. For more information, including tips on what customers can do to help winterize their homes, visit www.wsscwater.com/winterready.
